

Managed Care for Children in Child Welfare

Currently, 30 states, including Puerto Rico, provide general medical and/or behavioral health services to children in child welfare through managed care* arrangements.

* For our purposes, managed care is defined as a capitated, risk-based, or ASO program. This does not include states' PCCM or disease management programs.